COSTS

This is a non-profit, non-commercial, cooperative trip among friends. We rent the boats from a co-op, and share expenses, which covers boats, paddles, safety gear, life jackets (must be USCG approved Class V model), pumps, and first aid kit. This cost is noted below as "Boat Cost." There is no charge for guides, the river or the permits. Other shared costs will be your choice of recreational beverages and the potluck dinner which we will plan once we know who is going. Firewood, ice, put-in and take-out fees and parking expenses and additional fees are included in the "Miscellaneous" charge shown below.

Boat Cost	$18.00 per person/weekend
Camping Fee for Camp Lotus	$14.00 per person/weekend
Miscellaneous	$17.00 per person/weekend
GRAND TOTAL:	$49.00 per person/weekend

SECURING YOUR RESERVATION

It has happened far too many times that people said they wanted to go, and we expected them, and at the last minute, they could not make it. Which meant we had empty spaces in the boats, turned others down who wanted to go, but then could not, because it was the last minute.

We are doing this for free, just to have fun with friends, and it's not fun to do all the planning and organizing work and have people not show up. We have to pay for gear, equipment and camping spots well in advance. Therefore, "reservations" will be secured only by prepayment of the amount shown to left as the the GRAND TOTAL, which will not be refundable upon cancellation unless we can fill your spot (which is likely, if we have some advance notice). First reserved, first served. Thanks for understanding.

If you are interested, you should send a check (made out to Michael Luttrell ) for the total cost as calculated previously. First come, first served. I can guarantee you that if you wait until the last minute, you will miss out. So don't wait; plan it now and send in your form. Thanks
